Dear J. O.:

At Mr. Horsley's request you prepared tax return last year for Maxine Cutlip. I have just talked to her and she has never received a bill for this service.

Did you send Mr. Horsley a bill and was it misplaced or have you failed to send her a statement? In any event if you will send statement to me I will deliver it to her as she wants it paid.

She also wants to be certain that you plan on doing her tax return for next year. This I suggest you plan to do because she not only is a fine person and will make you a good client and she is a longtime friend of this office--in fact, her father actually founded this firm.

I suggest you drop me a note about her tax return and also about the fact that you will prepare her return for next year.

Yours very truly,

Dudley H. Culp
