he won't. He's positive he's not going to be able to be a dollar tomorrow. You're positive that you are that's why you go ahead and spend the most. Times are good, you're gonna get a dollar. Realize that grandma's not going to be here or Mama or Daddy or brother or sister not going to be here to give you that dollar. Learn how to save. Like I've got (not clear)

(Conversation appears at first to be irrelevant, but is a continuation of interview with Mrs. Harper.)

EFFORTS TO GAIN CULTURAL ADVANTAGES FOR INDIANS

Mrs. Harper: And they had this meeting--called for a certain day--I was just getting ready to go.

(Is that with the Historical Society?)

No. Oh, it's a government program. Nobody showed up. I didn't know who all was invited. I was the only one there. Well, Frances Drexil came. Edward finally showed up. Dr. Reynolds, Mr. Allen and I only ones there. They called this next meeting, I was getting ready to go. I told LeRoy I wanted him to go. (next sentence not clear) And so when that day came, Rose's husband had been sick, she wanted LeRoy to pray for him--they came out and I had to stay home. Well, I never hear no more. Finally, one day I went up there, and I went to see Mr. Allen and I told him I couldn't come and I wondered what they did. He said well, he still didn't say who all showed up. It wasn't too many, I guess. He said they had the meeting. He said they got Archie to be the chairman. He said they wanted Joe Matthews, but he declined. That they'd rather have some tribal member, I guess, other tribal member. So that was the end of it. And he said, well, we'll let you know if we're going to have anything else, I mean, you know, have another meeting. And they never have, they've never written to me. I never read about it or heard about it. I guess it's just at a standstill. But I was interested in it because I thought, well, we needed something like that.