Mr. S. Campbell, professor
The University of Oklahoma
Norman, Oklahoma

Dear Mr. Campbell:

"Happy Hunting Grounds" is translated. I must only write a copy on the typewriter.

From Mr. Salmer I heard that you will see White Bull this summer. Two years ago I wrote him that an admirator of his uncle Sitting Bull, seven thousand miles away would be glad if he could receive from him a copy of his Minniconjou calendar. But I never heard from him. Even a copy on paper could be satisfying as comparishing material, as I have a copy of the Lone Dog wintercount on buffalo shade, drawed by an Indian.

Can I bear you to have the kindness to ask questions about Black Bull. This is a wondsor of Sitting Bull. Black Bulls mother was a daughter of Sitting Bull. I knew Black Bull since 1920. He died August 3 1933, 72 years old at Porcupine. I am curious, what White Bull knows about him, because Indians don't like to speak of themselves, and so I don't know great things of the life of my friend Black Bull. I hope, that White Bull can tell something about him and I would be thankful if you have the kindness to write it to me.

Last month I bought some photos of White Bull from Mr. Salmer. I regret, that he has lost his wife Her Shawl.

With all good wishes for your travel, I remain,

Yours truly,

Gottfried Hotz
