them Sioux country. I want take that land away. Tell him come back and we talk about it again. And dad said, my grandpa said, "Say, my son, Custer, I said quit. I put everything down - - my knife and this kinda war shield. I can't fight again." He said, "Too many Indian up there. 'Bout million or better Indian up there." And Custer laugh and said" I got four thousand boy. I gonna go. Mr. Big Bow, you're right. You stay until I come back - -" (Unintelligible few words and Able claps his hands) - - got letter from him in Montana and Custer got kill and all them soldiers. Got kill. I been up there at the cemetery. I been up there, Montana. I seen sign, Custer, four thousand, got kill (by) these Indian. Yeah. (Unintelligible." - - all kind of Indians - - they got tombstone up the mountains. That's what I see in cemetery - - four thaousand. I thought he done the work and (Unintelligible work) - - that's Big Bow story, yet. And after he went Washington - - Grandpa went to Washington. And I guess somebody interpret for him. "You want the school house? Kiowa School?" And Government said, "Big Bow, you're too right." Tell him about the wqr(?) stop the war. They like him, Government. "Well, we'll help you put up the Indian big school house." "What you going call it?" "Kiowa School, they said. Kiowa school, - - school, Anadarko, right there. That way, they call'em Kiowa school." Big building, four story high. That's what he done. Big Bow Story. And Mountain View -- west of Mountain View - - I was boy that time, over four years old, Big Bow come out there, some where. Got white men - - three- - two white men and Big Bow. He can't stop any home at their camp. Andhe come, he stop here, horseback. And he ask him, my dad, "Dad, what they doing?" "Oh, I want get the Sun Dance over with. I want all them dumb kids - - the six year old, seven years old, I want send'em to school Anadarko in Kiowa school." They all got ready to go
