

The nephew Soldier, perished in the flames when the first school house created at the Wichita Agency was burned.

Page 262, following par. 1.

I filled a bottle with water from this spring, in order to have it analyzed; but it being a long time before I had any opportunity for procuring the analysis, its peculiar properties became dissipated; and its elements could not be satisfactorily ascertained; though when first put into the bottle it was strongly impregnated with sulphur, as well as other minerals.

Page 276, insert in ^{last} par. 2 following first sentence:

"Where will you sleep?" enquired the Chief after the meal was over. As I had gone there in order to avail myself of the Indian idea of hospitality, I had no notion of withdrawing from the protection thus afforded a guest, by choosing my own sleeping place, and answered "Just where you tell me". After some further colloquy of a similar nature he bade me "Go sleep in ambulance, "No go away ~~wadik~~ in morning till you see me." Soon after I retired, etc

Page 277, beginning of ^{last} par. 3, insert:

The Kiowas were dumb with astonishment when I arrived in camp, and reported that I had spent the night with White Wolf. "Mighty strong Medicine" exclaimed the Medicine Man "Comanche no kill, Medicine too strong."

Page 282, insert after paragraph 2

Among the natural objects of interest, passed this morning was a mountain of Granite with a broad dike of Greenstone running throughout its whole height.