

Is Big Bat Pourier Still alive. I was told he lived at Manderson, S.D.

See letter #10

They say that the Crow Indians killed six Sioux (one of them called "young Sitting Bull") at Fort Keogh in the winter of 1876-77. The Sioux had come in under a flag of truce, but the Crows killed them anyhow, and the war began again. Who were these six Sioux, anyway? Was the "young Sitting Bull" a relative of Sitting Bull's? I would like to know what the Sioux can say about this trouble.

I see in a book on Canada, that Sitting Bull's brother-in-law was named Bad Soup. Is this right? If not, who was Bad Soup? Did Grey Eagle have any other names?

Is it true that Hoha (Little Assiniboine) was also named "Painted Face"?