

them. He, thinking, the man was a horse-buyer set a high price on his horses — likewise on all other personal property. When they got through with their talk, the white man tore out a sheet of paper and handed it to Mr. He-Alone-is-a-Man and informed him that he owed the county so much amount of money on account of his property — told him he was the county assessor. Mr. He-Alone-is-a-Man was stung.

III

Shinzy (Yellow Fat) had a very good White Man for a neighbor. They got along very nicely and became good friends. Shinzy called him Mr. Good Neighbor. Now, Mr. Good Neighbor had a brand new gun and Shinzy had seen this several times and the more he saw it the more he wish the possession of it.

Early one morning Shinzy went over to his good neighbor. He was invited to the table for the family was just at breakfast. But he did not appear to be hungry as he generally had been when visiting his good neighbor. So Mr. Good Neighbor said "My friend you must want something — coming here so early in the day. What can I do for you?" Shinzy said: "My friend last night I could not sleep the greater part of the night but finally I slept and had a very good dream. I dreamed I visited you early one morning and you gave me that new gun which I had often seen and coveted. So I got up and came over thinking the good dream might come true."

Mr. Good neighbor stepped into the room where the gun was, brought it out and gave it to Shinzy. Shinzy was overjoyed and said "hawho! hawho!" and went home rejoicing.

Soon after this, Mr. Good Neighbor, one early morning, was approaching Shinzy place. He went to meet him and greeted him "How kola!" You must want something this morning for you hardly ever come here so early in the day. What is it you wish my friend?"