

made up your mind where to join -- I'd advise to live according to the requirements that will admit you into the place where wish to go." "I made a very low low and turned back and here I am. It was on account of my Indian blood that I have returned. So those of you who mixed bloods, better decide where you will go and live according to requirements -- as for me I mean to see my Indian mother who has left me and gone before me to the happy-hunting grounds. I do not wish to go where the Whites are lest I see my White father who had grossly neglected to raise me."
