

Bullhead immediately took the sacks, which were on the floor, and when Catch-the-bear tried to take them (sacks) Bullhead pushed Catch-the-bear out of the office. Catch-the-bear then said to B.H. "We will see each other about this in the near future." Catch-the-bear then returned to his home.

In the early days when Bullhead was a hostile a group of warriors were going on a buffalo hunt. Sitting Bull and Catch-the-bear were among the warriors (20 in all) Thru jealousy B.H. accused Sitting Bull & Catch-the-bear as being women. At this time Sitting Bull & Catch-the-bear were two of the bravest men in camp. For Bullhead's remarks, Sitting Bull & Catch-the-bear rode up to the former and with small clubs struck him until he fell off his horse. A feeling of enmity always
