I believe I told you once before that S. B. went with Buffalo Bill on a wild west show. Mrs Mc Laughlin was taken along as interpreter, she received good wages and was very well satisfied.
She generally came out on the stage with S. B., a short speech was given, telling the history of his life in glowing colors, telling of his generalship and bravery, sometimes even saying S. B. was an educated general a west point student. They traveled all over the south at different places in the south he was hooted and hissed at. In New York he got acquainted with good friends. He met and talked with Edison, there he listened to the talking machine, which he thought was a most wonderful thing he saw the Madison square gardens was on Staten Island saw the Goddess of Liberty illuminated at night, saw the thousand ships in port in the New York harbor the wonderful sky scrapers
