Ft. Yates, North Dakota.

Dear Mr. Beede:

Thanks very much for your kind letter about Sitting Bull. I greatly appreciate your interest in my project and hope the book will not disappoint you. I was quite successful in holding interviews with the old Indians, especially One Bull at McLaughlin and believe I have gained some truly fresh material. I particularly value your assistance since you are the only white man I know who appreciates the importance of Indian philosophy and theology and science as a background for mere events of history. Please continue to inform me on any points which come to mind.

Very cordially yours,

W. S. CAMPBELL.
