My dear Sir:

I enjoyed reading very much your book
"Sitting Bull".

I thought perhaps you would be interested in knowing that I have new facts and information on the life of Sitting Bull written by a gentleman who personally knew him. The gentleman in question is now dead but left many interesting sidelights on the life of this great Indian.

His sister has turned his library over to me to study at my leisure. Knowing that you are interested in this great Indian I would only be too glad to receive a letter from you at some late date.

Very truly yours,

John Albert Steele.

Dear Mr. Campbell: John Albert graduated from our high school this spring and is quite interested in the early history of our Indians. Any light you may throw on the value of this library will be appreciated as well and any interest you may take in him.

Most sincerely Alta L. Carder
