

IS HE THE ONE WHO KILLED CUSTER?

"AMERICAN HERITAGE," February, 1957, edited by Bruce Catton [American Heritage Publishing company, 112 pages, $2.95].

Chief White Bull and Gen. George A. Custer, the principal figures in a story told in the current issue of American Heritage.

American Heritage continues to be one of the most attractive publications appearing on the scene.

In this issue, Stanley Vestal, whose name is familiar to readers of the Magazine of Books, has his now-it-can-be-told interview with Chief White Bull, the Sioux Indian who, he claimed, killed Gen. Custer at the battle of the Little Big Horn.

"The Needless War with Spain" is a dramatic story of how America got into the conflict in which, the author says, no vital interest of this country was involved. Several other articles, all handsomely illustrated, make up this edition of the distinguished series.
