

August 14, 1929.

Mr. Fin G. Burnett,
Fort Washakie, Wyoming.

Dear Sir:

My friend, Miss Hebard, of the University of Wyoming, has given me your name as one who might help me in some historical research I am doing. I am at work on a Life of Sitting Bull. And I shall be mighty grateful for any information you can give me. Did you know him? See him? Your impressions of the man, or any little incident connected with him or the Indians who ran with him, will be mighty welcome.

Of course I will gladly give you credit for any data you give me, when the book comes out.

Do you happen to know anyone who can help me in this?

Yours sincerely,

W.S.CAMPBELL

("STANLEY VESTAL")