Dear Mr Campbell,
I'm looking over my letters I see I neglected to answer yours. In regard to that Race in the Hills. The story is just a myth - There is a high range of hills that run in a circle. It starts somewhere near Sturges running north of Lead, and west a little ways, circling southward and east till it joins back where the range of hills started, near Sturges In the valley between these hills which was a regular paradise, was a game refuge in the winter time, of every kind of deer, elk, bear, and even buffalo. There was water and fine grazing of different kinds
