Drawings. The pen drawings in the text (heads of Chapters) will be so small in the reproduction, that no <sup>small</sup> details will be visible. I think I have all the material I need for that purpose, if not, I shall let you know.

As soon as I have made the final lead-pencil drawings, I shall send you tracings in pen & ink. I shall start that part of the work to-morrow.

Yours very truly

Andrius Veygold

P. S. Please answer the questions, especially on page 3.

P. S. I am going to represent the Mandan with the hair arranged as in Karl Bodmer's portrait of Mato Topse: A small lock tied with piece of flannel hanging over the middle of the forehead, the front part of the hair (from the ears forward) cut off squarely about the length of the chin - the rest of the hair hanging down over the back.
