Dear Mr. Campbell:

Have your letter of January 25th inquiring about old-time Pawnee tipis.

I know of no old-time Pawnee tipis --either in a museum of private hands. Now, there just might be one in the Chicago Field Museum. They have, as you probably know, almost a complete hall devoted to the Pawnees. Though, I've seen this department many times, I don't recall whether they had a tipi.

< As for a canvas tipi, I think that Henry Good Fox has one in Pawnee. That's Henry Good Fox, General Delivery, Pawnee. >

Sorry, but I don't know of anyone who might have a photograph of an old-time tipi either.

Will be off to Sheridan on the 20th of February for the first business meeting of the All American Indian Days. Hope it'll be bigger and better.

Sincerely,
