

The hole was filling up and then his feet were beginning to hurt and it was hard to get his breath - when he knew he was cold he starts to build a fire with branches when he gets warm he starts to shake but he got snow and kept on warming until he was warm.

Since he left camp he had not had anything to eat or drink so that is the reason he was eating snow.

He then went to get some more wood a coyote came in a sled on the other side of the fire, when he saw the coyote he looked at him and thought that he had not had anything to eat in two days and was going to kill it but thought that it came to tell him something.