

6. Asia, etc.

A. HOSTAGES TO TOURISM: Burma's Indigenous Women (women, militarization and conflict). By Edith Mirante

B. COTTON AND CENTRAL ASIA. (militarization, water resources, post Cold War legacy). By Al Binger (tentative).

C. PENAN (land and resource rights, multinational corporations). By Wade Davis (tentative)

PART III: Resources for Action (40 pages)

This section will be an indispensable resource for nongovernmental organizations, government officials, activists, academic specialists, and the press.

- Draft Declaration of Indigenous Rights, with commentary by indigenous organizations and/or leaders
- Earth Summit Documents
- Other important documents
- Basic reference materials, data tables, organization profiles, standard documents, statistics, definitions, etc.

PART IV: Global Rights Survey (150 pages)

Regional reviews: 1,500-word overview essay for each region, introducing 100- to 500-word entries on specific threatened groups. Both overview essays and short entries will include the type threat and remedial/preventative measures. Each section will contain an average of ten 100-word entries, five 200-word entries, and five 500-word entries. The actual number of entries per section will depend on conditions within the region. Heavily illustrated with charts, photos, graphs, key maps, etc. (15 pages per region)

For each region, the coordinator specialist will prepare the overview essay and solicit the short articles.

- Central America, including Mexico
Coordinator: Mac Chapin, director of CS Central America Program
- South America
Coordinator: Ted Macdonald, director of CS South America Program
- United States and Canada
Coordinator: John Mohawk, SUNY-Buffalo.
Coordinator: Robert Hitchcock, Univ. of Nebraska.
- Middle East and North Africa (including Eritrea)
Coordinator: Sarah Graham-Brown (tentative).
- South Asia (India, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Afghanistan, etc.)
Coordinator: Michael M. J. Fisher, Rice/MIT. (tentative).
- Southeast Asia (including Malaysia, Philippines, and Indonesia)
Coordinator: Toby Volkman, Social Science Research Council
- North Asia (China, Korea, Mongolia, Russia)
Coordinator: Gail Fondahl, Dartmouth Center for Arctic Studies. Guest editor of Cultural Survival Quarterly on Russia.
- Pacific and Oceania
Coordinators: Geoff White, Program for Cultural Studies, East-West Center,