

PRIDE was used to undermine the senior citizens in Battle Creek. A ward commissioner persuaded more than 100 Seniors to protest by crowding the city commission meeting to "clean up our neighborhood." The Senior Citizens were led to believe that the cleaning up was on the order of putting newspapers and magazines separate from garbage. On the other hand, PRIDE was used in applications for Office Of Criminal Justice Funds, such as OCJ Project #70076-IK90, Page 5 Problem Statement, par. 5.

During the Calhoun County Commission election we captured on video tape the hand picked candidate acting in a state of panic at the Battle Creek voting precincts for the 2nd District. Marvin Austin had been promised a job with Neighborhoods Inc. (contracting to handle rental property)--with a promise that if the illegal HUD position could not be maintained by Austin the Kellogg Foundation would hire him. But it all hinged on Austin winning the Nov. 3rd 1992 election. Austin illegally went into the precincts and solicited voters who were waiting in line to vote. S.T.O.P. asked the city clerk to ask the police to stop Austin. The police made a false report stating that both candidates violated the rules. Austin showed such desperation that all volunteers for his appointment were scared to death of him. Austin took a chair and threw it at one man. He pushed and threatened another. The volunteers were trembling with fear.

S.T.O.P. believes that Diane King was murdered, 2-9-91, by over aggressive males or females in a desperate struggle for the position she was promised by the Kellogg Foundation.

Jim Hettinger of Battle Creek Unlimited and Delores Diggs of Mid Counties Employment Training Consortium were at each others throats over the non-profit slave labor funds of MCETC. That same Delores Diggs, a Black Woman, of the Community Action Agency also called S.T.O.P. Members "dumb niggers" and stated that she would get us fired from jobs when S.T.O.P. demonstrated against summer youths working at hazardous jobs. Gov. Blanchard's wife and the mayor and a group of people witnessed her threats. The Battle Creek Police wrote another false police report May 19, 1990, People in Battle Creek are desperate. They will kill for those non-profit positions. That's the only "employment" that pays a livable wage in Battle Creek.

We believe that others were murdered; including Rev. Clifton Bullock of the enclosed letter, which was "conveniently" but supposedly injured in an automobile accident 2-14-91---just 5 days after Diane was murdered. Bullock died a few days later in Leila Hospital in Battle Creek.

T.V. Stations such as TV8, Grand Rapids, TV 3, Kalamazoo, as well as Battle Creek's Channel 41 was provided a copy of the 1-4-91 letter S.T.O.P. sent to former City Commissioner Clifton Bullock. Bullock was bribed with Kellogg Foundation Grants supposedly for
