

"Conversation with Franklins & Wallis" event - you could talk about books that have influenced your life, anecdotes about your book tour, & your future plans as a writer - University presses frequently publish this type of interview - So it could evolve into another book - Michael is agreeable & I hope you will be too - as you two have made a great team - The date & time could be arranged to agree with your schedule - I know many adults would be interested, but I think the schools would be too -

Thank you again for including my store in your promotional tour - I envy you your trip to Ireland - I lived there a year & it was a memorable experience - Mary
