

Wilma

The note from Rigoberta says:

Valued friend and friends: (she writes to you, but extends the message to Cherokee people)

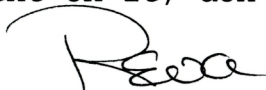

I am happy to have this occasion to appreciate your work (the 1843 Conference) and your support for the UN Peace Prize Committee.

I am sure that in the not too distant future we will be able to share (join forces/get together) our efforts and projects in order to contribute to the building of a better world.

Affectionately

Rigoberta Menchu

(Wilma, do you know what event the post card depicts? We should have stuff like that made for you -- one at the bell ringing ceremony, shaking shells at Bull Hollow and, for sure, one of your swearing in ceremony. People would appreciate getting a card that had a personal event on it, don't you think?)
