

arbitrarily the work can be completed in a week, and there will be no necessity of reopening the land office. The commissioner will probably take the role of Seminole babies and allot in the order in which their names appear, without knowledge of kind of land that is being allotted to them. In this way a few would get the best land, as by the other method, but purely by chance, and the ones who secured the poor land would have no just cause of complaint. The commissioner would make the allotment without any knowledge of where the best land was located.
