EDITORIAL ON J. F. BROWN

A box of eye salve, whose contents he thoughtlessly rubbed into instead of around his optics, has caused ex-Gov. John F. Brown of Sasakwa, I. T., two months of suffering and for a time threatened the loss of his eyesight. Gov. Brown reached the city yesterday with his physician, Dr. A. S. Riddle of South McAlester, I. T., and they are stopping at the Southern hotel. The former still wears a bandage over one of his eyes and is here for the purpose of consulting a specialist and undergoing treatment. He will remain several weeks and hopes to return to his home completely cured.

Some weeks ago Gov. Brown was troubled with his eyesight, and some one suggested that he might find relief in the use of a certain eye salve which was carried in stock by one of his stores. He paid but slight attention to the directions, which were to the effect that the preparation should be rubbed on the
