BLISS KELLY

ATTORNEY AT LAW
TERMINAL BUILDING

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLAHOMA

Dec. 19, 1936.

Hon. C. Guy Outlip,
Judge Superior Court,
Seminole, Okla.

Dear Judge:

Enclosed is copy of the speech which you sent me some time ago, and which should have been returned to you before this. I have kept it awaiting return of a friend who had been out of town, as I wanted him to read it.

You have said a great deal in this speech. So much, in fact, that it takes some time to digest it all. Several books could be written upon the subjects you have touched and in support of the statements made. Personally, I think it is a masterpiece, and agree with everything you have said.

Would like to arrange some gathering of those who are interested, at which you could be asked to deliver this, or a similar speech, here. I am sure that a little later we can arrange it, if you are willing. In the meantime, I do not feel that you should be invited to address a small handfull, as the thoughts you express are worthy of consideration by a substantial number. Would you be willing, if proper arrangements could be made, to come here and address a gathering of interested persons?

Your friend, Dr. J. B. Thoburn, says he would like to have a copy of this speech, and is very much in harmony with the ideas expressed therein.

Will write you more after the holidays, and also send you revised copy of the stuff previously sent you.

Best Holiday Wishes for yourself and family.

Respectfully yours,

Bliss Kelly.
