

was west of Ardmore and around Ringling and around Wilson.

(So, you learned how to make those tanks with the tank company and you worked with them for a while?)

Yes, I worked for them two years and then I just took my jobs here and yonder from then on.

(You must have been at the age to start thinking of the girls didn't you-- did you get married along about then somewhere?)

MARRIED IN 1920 - WENT BACK TO WORK FOR ICE COMPANY

Well, I didn't get married until 1920. And then after I did, I worked--I went back to work with the ice company then.

(Did you marry an Indian girl?)

Yes, a Choctaw.

(A Choctaw.)

Yes, a Choctaw, a Choctaw and Irish I think. (Laughter)

(Did she have a temper?) (Laughter)

Yeah, like all Irishmen. (Laughter)

(You know they have a name for that--having a bad temper.)

Yeah they do.

(Did you all have any children?)

Yes, we had seven children, but they are all married and gone now. So there just two of us.

(Do they live out of state?)

Some of them, we have some that live in Arizona, and one live in Indiana.

My youngest boy--my baby child lives in Indiana. He's the manager of some Sunflower Ammunition Company, so he got to be the manager for that company. He live in Clinton, Indiana.

(How old is he?)

He's thirty-two.
