

wasn't a cow, or anything or hogs, anything. And papa said he worked all summer long to get a pig. He got them over in Arkansas somewhere. (sentence not clear) He had to wait till that sow had her pigs before he could get one. (laughter)

(Well. Those were hard times then. And it took several years for them to get back then--build their homes back.)

Build their homes back.

(Get some hogs and cows started.)

Yeah. And they built it all back up.

(Now that was the Union soldiers that came down in here, federal soldiers, was it?)

Yeah.

(What the couldn't steal or carry away, they burned.)

Yeah.

EARLY DAYS IN WAUHILLAU AREA

(You say the Eagle family was the one that first settled here where Wauhillau is now?)

(And of course Wauhillau does mean Eagle?)

Yeah. Eagle. They first settled here. They built a house here. They lived over on the Carl Carlyle place over there across the hill.

(Yeah.)

He said the wolves about to eat his hogs. He had to move back.

(Well, wolves were that bad here?)

Yeah.

(In the early days.)

Sold the place to Goggle-eyed Smith.

(Goggle-eyed Smith.)

And they said he'd been here just a little while so he moved off. And
