

(Participant, man:) Well we won't need to worry about you know just the American Indian will we. That's all we'll have to worry about.

(Participant, lady:) We put that on our first application.

Mr. Clement: It's..it's in your first..

(Participant, man:) And it'll probably practically the same.

Mr. Clement: Now then on this next page. Additions to Housing Stock. If there's been any new dwellings built in recent years, since the approval of the other application. This goes in here and then any units that have been destroyed or taken off of the Housing supplies. Now in the next paragraphs list the numbers that have been removed from supplies. And then in this next one here, just a general statement as to the condition of housing in the area whether it's improved or whether or not it's going down. Condition of the housing is gradually becoming more and more up..capital funds for people.

(Participant, man:) I think that would be. I think it's gonna grow worse all the time.

(Mr. ?:) Yeah. I think it usually is classed that way, uh-huh.

(Participant, man:) You go out there below right Willie Salyer's place there. Take a picture of that old log cabin out there. (Laughter.) It's not anything like it was ten years ago.

(Mr. ?:) And of course the changes in vacancy situations. You may not have anything to put in there.

(Participant, man:) I don't think it's. We would

(Mr. ?:) If there are vacancies in the area and you know about 'em. Well estimate the number of if vacancies are less now than they were say five years ago, well make a statement in there about that. If there are no vacancies in the area if you don't have enough housing in the area well make a statement about that. And then this paragraph 4 down here. It's just kind of a coverall paragraph, tell anything that may not have been mentioned before about housing
