```
Uh-hum.
       That's what I heard, uh-huh.)
The oldest man that lived there--the graveyard got started from Reece.
name was Charley Reece.
(Yeah.)
And there's some more Reeces over around Flint--Taylor School house.
(Uh-huh.)
There's a big cemetery there.
(Hum.)
They've taken pretty good care of it too. I used to go to school there when we lived at what we call (word not clear). .
(They had an old water mill)
Uh-huh.
(Well. Was that on Barren Fork?)
     That's called Tyner's Creek.
(On Tyner's Creek, uh-huh, back there where Proctor is now, some place.)
Uh-huh.
(Uh-huh. An old water mill.)
Yeah.
(Well.)
Uh-hum, Reece used to live right there at that water mill, Joe Reece.
(Yeah.)
There's just one or two about three there still living.
(You all went to Taylor school.)
                (static) west of Siloam they call Beck's Mill.
(Beck's Mill.)
```

They used to call it that.
