

get stuck where main street is today. And the first school I went to, they didn't have any schoolhouses. And I went in the church house.

I went in a Friends' Church, went to school in a Friends' Church and I went also into the Methodist Church.

(In Miami?)

In Miami.

Male voice: Friends' Church down by Jerry Lewis?

Yeah that's Jerry Hubbard church. It was right across the street from the post office then. And the Methodist Church was a block, south of the post office, east or west of Clay Stokes' grocery, there on the corner.

(How many children were in the school?)

How many? Oh, they was quite a few children went to school. But one teacher taught, oh, I'd say, thirty or forty children.

(End of Interview.)
