Talk by Dewey Daily

Before we start our handgame, we'd like to have your attention. We could not do without you so we want to dignify this occasion, and address you in this manner that we do. We know by your service tonight. Your talent and singing. Songs, notice our boys who are dancing. David there.... dance and rhythm and the beat of the drum. Singing of the song. Led me to believe that your all our hearts and minds are together. Thinking best of your boys. Christina, has asked my wife and I to set up here and take part in these handgames like other people do, not too familiar with this, however we do know how to keep score and we're do see that before. Might have to have somebody else (interruption) handgame. I'll read this first before the handgame. "David Supernaw is back from Vietnam. And will report back to Fort Polk, Louisiana on the seventh of July and finish out his enlistment around Christmas. Howard West Jr. finishing eight weeks of basic training at Fort Polk, Louisiana. And will return there for seven more weeks of advance infantry training. From there goes to Fort Benning in Georgia to jump school." Regardless of when these boys go. Their service on behalf of us. We're very fortunate. (Unclear) they're the ones that's nearest relatives of these, parents or, uncles or aunts. Perhaps they wish that the others were living that they could do something for, you know in a dignified way and in a big way. Or elders, too hard to talk to people, too hard to get along, how to honor and expects
