

girls, the bridesmaids, they all dress alike, you know. They put on all their costumes and everything. And over there where they're going to receive it, the boy's side, they all picked out their share. They all come in by numbers, you know, first bridesmaid, second, third, and so on and the same way at the boy's side. They got them numbers over there and they know which one they going to get and they're ready. And they're ready for their food over there when they come there. And then the girl gets on a horse and pretty near most all them other girls they get on a horse, too. In them days, they'd love to do that. You know, they get on a horse, they think it's wonderful. And later on, of course, they walk over there. Lead the horse, but they get on top they think it's something.

(You're good.)

Yeah, they have them things, feathers and stuff on.

(Them big red feather hats?)

Yeah. When they go over there, well then they receive 'em over there. They receive 'em over there. They all ready got places for 'em over there. People that's going to receive these bridesmaids, well, each one is got their blankets down and everything ready. They receive 'em and then they have a dinner and everything ready for each one. Each one, they both have a little table there. Each on the ground, they didn't have no tables them days.

(Each boy take his girl and they have dinner and stuff together, each group?)

Yeah. They feed the girls.

(Feed the girls, yeah.)

So, they do that and then right about that time, while they're eating
