

Yeah.

(And they can teach you something, too, if you want to listen.)

Yeah.

(Now that's the way it was a long time ago, but now days--)

Yeah. And William Blossom Boot, you remember him up therep--

(Yeah, Blossom Boot, William Blossom Boot.)

Nellie Boot.

(Yeah)

I guess they're both dead now.

(Yeah, he's dead now.)

ARTISTIC ACTIVITIES AND DRESS OF VARIOUS TRIBES

Indians made baskets.

(Well, made baskets. Out of--what did they make 'em out of?)

I believe bush brush.

(Well.)

Uh-huh, run it and run it, you know.

(Yeah)

That's what they made it.

(Well that would make a good strong basket.)

Oh yeah.

(You know in traveling around, you know, you meet other kind of Indians like way in the west the Cheyennes, and the Quapaws and Osages. All of them they wear lots of feathers and have lots of color, beads and things. How about the Cherokees they never go in for beads, do they?)

I haven't saw one for a long time. Now they used to wear 'em one right about here, you know, one by the side of the head, you know. They'd stick a feather by the side of the head, you know, eagle feather.

(Well. Yeah.)
