

like to eat with you and you and I be friends." So, "alright, well let's go over there." So they went over there where these woods were. Here was the buffalo just roasting away. He already had it fixed you know, roasting away, getting ready to eat. So Sainday he said, "Let's you and I have some fun while it's cooling off." The meat was cooling off. So he looks around those tree and there was a fork on it. He said, "I'll go up there and sit down, and have some fun. And then we'll take turns in having some fun." So he got up in the fork of that tree and he told that tree, "Twist!" And it twisted. And then he said "Untwist." And it untwisted and he got out. He said, "It's just a lot of fun doing that." "Now you get up there." He told his Sioux friend to get up there. His Sioux friend got up there, it twisted. He was just laughing away because it was lot of fun. And he said, "Untwist." And it untwisted. And in the meantime Sainday was tasting to see if it was just right. He said, "I believe we'll do this one more time and then we'll be ready to eat." And when Sainday got up there he told this tree, he said, "Twist!" And it twisted. And this Sioux friend went over there to taste the meat. He was on the ground. He tasted the meat and it was just right. And Sainday he was always the man that liked to cheat, liked to cheat other people. But this time the Sioux fellow had the best of him. The tree didn't untwist and here was Sainday up in that tree. And he begged that tree to untwist and it didn't untwist. And this Sioux fellow ate all the buffalo and the birds helped him. The birds came. He invited the birds. Sainday was trying to get out but it was too late. When he finally untwisted there was nothing to eat. No buffalo for poor old Sainday. (Laughter.)

SNAKE MAGIC - CARNIVAL

(Song begun by Leila!)

That's what grandpa used to sing. It means a storm is coming and I'm going
