

(Remind me to ask you about it later.)

Sit here and tell it.

(Conversation in background.)

SPIDER MAGIC

(I'll ask somebody else about it if you'll tell me all you can remember about it.)

Justin: A spider crossed the ocean and rode the waves over here. And (words not clear) that country Indian over there in foreign country. When he come over here he turned back into human being and it was a spider but it turned into human. That's what woman told me.

Did he say it loud enough?

(Yeah.)

Justin: I know somebody else that could tell you some of more that story.

(Okay. I've never heard that one before. Even a mention of that one.)

I didn't know I was a spider. (Laughter.)

Justin: Spider woman.

Yeah, Spider woman.

Justin: When somebody ask you, you can't think of any.

ANOTHER GHOST STORY

Well that's like other things that I knew.

(Sometimes when you sit around like this too, someone will say something and remind you of something. So I'd rather, have two people together.)

But this is a true story. And you know they always say Indians always say when you see ghost or get scared why you'll get sick. And I believe that because he got sick soon after that. My brother Walton came after his daughter was in program and he came after a buckskin dress over here. I think it was, went home. And so he looked all over for that buckskin dress and he finally
