

the left. Edgar Fields lives there now. He owns that. Fields and his sons. That Henry Snail lives down--remember them when they used to come here.

(Yeah.)

I used to go help them sometimes..

(Well.)

He's dead, you know. Died a while back.

(Yeah.)

One time I went to visit down there, me and Uncle Jim and we'd go down there.

(Well.)

Way back. Fine folks.

(Yes, they were fine people.)

You knew Houston didn't you?

(Yeah.)

That was her brother.

(I remember Jim and Anna Ballard.)

Anna!

(Yeah.)

There's several of them. Anna Ballard.

(They were quite a prominent family, weren't they?)

Oh yes.

(The Ballards.)

All their relatives were good, fine folks.

(Oh yes. And she was telling me. And told me to ask you. If you remembered--

(Interruption)

BUTLER CEMETERY AND HOME

(Johnny Butler)