

(And George Swanik)

Now George, I didn't know him.

(Yeah.)

There was Jonas Swanik. Used to be around Nowata. And he did have-- used to own a livery barn in Dewey there, years ago.

TOWN OF DEWEY

(Well. You saw Dewey kinda grow up, didn't you?)

Yeah.

(From just a small village.)

Yeah.

(What was it like when you first remember?)

I remember seeing everything when it wasn't nothing but dirt streets.

Mud. Boy, them streets was muddy.

(Well)

That hadn't been too long either.

(Yeah.)

'Course it's been quite a while too.

(Here it is now--)

I look back on--oh I'd say--'15 and '16 in there. Just dirt streets.

Pavements--I think they put pave the streets somewhere about 1916 and '17 maybe '18, in there.

(Yeah.)

Yeah, that's when they were paved. Used to be a street car up there.

(A street car.)

In the middle part of the street.

Third male voice: Well, that's the way Stilwell, Oklahoma.

(Yeah, went to Bartlesville, I guess.)

Huh? Yeah, it went from Dewey to Bartlesville.
