

(Yeah, street car went there.)

Bartlesville, they have--it went right around through town there.

(Long time ago, I guess. I can't hardly remember a street car.)

They took that street car out there in 19--oh must have been about 1918, or '20. Might have went as late as '20.

(Yeah.)

We lived--well we moved back over--we used to live over there. Then we moved up here and built here about 1905 or '06. Then we moved back over there in 19--last part of '17. December of '17 when we moved back over there. We stayed there. Then I was married in '25. Then wife and I built back up here.

OIL FIELD AROUND DEWEY HELPED THE DELAWARES

(Well, this has been an oil country too through here.)

Oh yeah.

(In a lot of respects. Well, that was a big help to the Delawares.)

Yes, this all grew up in there. Oh somewhere around 1910, I guess.

(Yeah.)

I did--I used to have some pictures, but they burned up in my farm.

Had a house burn up on us. Even had pictures of some of them old oil wells.

(Well.)

Drilled there in 1911. They drill all this field up here.

(You've seen a lot of things in your time.)

Yeah.

MUCH PASTURE LAND IN EARLY DAYS

(In this country.)

Fellow don't think about it, it don't seem back very long. It's been quite a while too.
