

were screened and were selected to have their autobiographies printed in their publication. This foundation, at a period of ten years, selects and screens twenty-five outstanding leaders of American Indians. We therefore close with this brief story of your useful life, hoping that you will accept our deepest and profound gratitude from all of us. May God spare your life to serve us many more years. May God bless you.