

MORE ABOUT LOCAL SCHOOLS

(Now over in west and southwest here in those hills. 'Course that was all the Shawnee Indians, I guess, settled over in there. Now they had their own schools, I supposed and churches?)

Yes. I wish my sister would bring that picture home. There's an Indian school. Judge (name not clear) arranged for an Indian school - the land. Well, he acquired it. Well, he was - his wife a part Indian, I believe. And she had a lot--he left her with quite a bit of land. Then my sister's husband's folks moved up there. And she got a picture of him, the only white man with all them Indians. I don't know why, but I know lot of them names. I didn't count them. (laughter)

(Mr. Tyner's comment not clear)

Wish I had to show you.

(I would love to see that.)

Till they made them a lot of Indians just didn't go.

(That's right.)

Now the Cummins school house (words not clear - tape too fast) Its as good as ever. You've probably seen it.

(Yes ma'am. I've seen it.)

Well, that was an Indian school. Wilma Haynes taught there one time.

(Well.)

He first found out (word not clear)

(Somewhere between here and Chelsea must be off the highway. I've seen another school and I believe they call it Blue Mound .

(Blue Mound:)

Between here and Chelsea..

(It would be off the highway on east of the highway. Seem like Blue Mark.)
