

Then we just put more corn in there and we just keep on and make as much as you want to make.

(It has to be made outside?)

Uh-huh. Yeah it has to be made outside because the dust from that ashes flies and you just get nearly covered in it. You have to keep your head tied up if you don't want it in you head.

((laughter))

(What about, what was it, hominy?)

Well, we take them ashes and sifted them you or either the lye real brisk. And we just sit it in there and boil it. Put water and lye and then the corn in there you know. That's dry corn. You just put it in there and just boil it. And stir it. And be sure and put enough lye in there for those skins comes off the corn. And then you take it out and then wash it.

(Uh-huh)

Wash it real good in separate water. And then you take and then put it on the serving pans or whatever, what ever you want to do.

(Uh-hum. Did you used to make it?)

Oh yeah. Yes I used to make it. I've made it a many a times.

LIFE HISTORY

(Where did you all live?)

Odesy

(Oh)

Yeah we lived there after we married was about four years I think.

(I mean when you was small, where did you live?)

Oh, we lived out there by Minnie's

(Oh)

Yeah we, we, sometimes we'd move to the mountains. Dad had two places. One in the mountain and one in the prairie.
