

Hanna and (speaks Creek.) And I stayed with Uncle Barney and Aunt Lizzie, oh, I guess two or three months one time. (speaks Creeks)

(Oh. Well they said my grandma, well I called her mama, she was a teacher..)

Yeah. Yeah I know she sure was missed whenever, you know, with this church doing you know.

(Uh-huh.)

She did so much of that. Yeah, Holdenville (speaks Creek). Uncle Barney too. He was up there. We didn't even know it while we was there. Buddy (speaks creek.

(Well he's not well. You know his bypass (speaks Creek.)

Oh.

(It's still there and doctor said it wouldn't be any good to take it out. To far gone, going down to his stomach. Cancer (speaks Creek) But he doesn't know it. Buddy thinks it's cured)

Oh Buddy does.

(But still yet (speaks Creek) colon. Tube about that long down here and cut a hole here and down in his stomach so he can eat.

And it connects with his stomach

(Because he can't make that food go down his esophagus.)

Uh-huh. (speaks Creeks)

(And the water where he drink water it got to where it couldn't go through.

Boy I mean he had a time. I didn't think he'd live through it. But doctor said he could live with a tube in there for a year. Maybe to five years (speaks Creek.)

(speaks Creek) so many years. You know.

(uh-hum)

I know a man, they said he had heart attack. (speaks Creek) He just got two years to live. He lived five years and then got drowned.

(oh.)
