

with us. Now the church house is just a lone church house there. And it was so unhandy to feed the people. No camp house whatever. And so Annie Bird, she was on the board. They come over there pretty often to see how things was going on. She said, you all sure need a camp house. Said, if you all could buy--you all look around see if you could buy a empty house, pretty cheap. You all find out what they want for it and let us know. Us women folks, I think we've got enough money that we could set aside you all enough money to buy an old building to build a camp house. So, Paul Frank, he knows them people over there. He's pretty good helper. He was my right hand man. He said, there's a fella over here got a chicken house, great big chicken house. He made up his mind to raise chickens. Sell chickens. Build a big chicken house. He tried it one year. He found out he didn't like it. He just quit the business. The house is just sitting there. It's got good lumber. The owner of it lives at Shawnee. The fellow left. If we could buy that, why that might near do it. We'd just have to buy some old building to go with it. We'd get enough wide lumber out of it. But we'd have to get other material, like flooring and the top, the roofing. So, we went to Shawnee and this here man we talked to him. He was a Christian himself. He said, well if you all want it for a camp house. It won't cost you all a cent. I'll just give it to you all. You all just go over there and tear it down. He said, there's another little house sitting over here. It's locked, all locked, nailed up. Locked up and nailed up. He said, there's lot of plates, pans, and cooking pots, kettles in there. He said, you all open up--you all open up that little house. Just get--take whatever you want out of it. Whatever you could use just take it out of there. Take it over there and use it. He givied us all of these gifts. So, we told Annie. And oh they come over there. They brought a pick-up over there and a car. Her boys, we went over there. While we was tearing it down, they was loading it up and hauling it over there to the church house. They was hauling it. They opened up that little house. They had lot of plates, frying pans, kettles, even a sewing machine there. They had lot of good,
