

dog, and she's a good watch dog too. Wasn't nothing happened around the place but what she'd know about it.

(Well.)

LOCATIONS OF CEMETERIES AND OTHER LANDMARKS

(Bob Tail Creek there, makes you wonder how all these creeks get their name.)

Yeah.

(Some of them have some unusual name. Whose home place was this now?)

I don't know. That there's where they --

(Yeah.)

You see anything like a cemetery around (interruption) -- (Next few sentences are not very clear.) -- one of the old school building used to be, and I don't much of anything left. Now, right here, this one over here close to this tree right here. He said it didn't seem like to him there was over 10, 8 or 10 foot clearance between this old big tree here and the corner, and that would be the southwest corner of the old blacksmith shop 'cause he said the other big tree right yonder was just straight in line to the little back door. And he says on this corner here, the old man had a pole tied up on that little old red oak tree, over to the corner of a building to tie horses up to.

(And the blacksmith shop set right in -- )

It set right in there just --

(And the old Eureka Store, where's this at?)

Yeah, the old Eureka school about a mile up here.

(Well, that's been a long time ago though, ain't it?)

Yeah, before my time. (Laughter)

(Yeah, way before mine.)
