

Tyner, James W. and Alice T. Timmons. 1969-71. Our People and Where They Rest: A Visit to the Cemeteries in the Old Cherokee Nation. 6 of 8 vols. Norman: Hooper Printing Co.

Faculty Research Advanced through the Duke Indian Oral History Project

William E. Bittle, Professor of Anthropology, University of Oklahoma. Research for book, now half-completed, on the Kiowa-Apache. Research for several articles on the Plains Indians now being written as part of his duties as Editor of the Plains Volume of the forthcoming new Handbook of North American Indians, to be published by the Smithsonian Institution.

Arrell M. Gibson, Professor of History, University of Oklahoma. Research for book, The Chickasaws, published 1971 by University of Oklahoma Press.

Arnold G. Henderson, Associate Professor of Architecture, University of Oklahoma. Research in history and present condition of Indian tribes of the Anadarko area as part of interdisciplinary research project, "A Study of Housing and Community Alternatives for American Indians."

Alan R. Velie, Assistant Professor of English, University of Oklahoma. Research for preparation of new English course, "American Indian Literature," offered for the first time the fall semester of 1971, designed primarily for Indian students.