

they still understand, but lot of us don't. He put two sticks down. Each name like that and you have to pick one of 'em up. And that would be the name. It seems like I end up in that crack. I'm lower down, little bit lower down. So, when I come whether I will name his grandfather--his father's name or his uncle's name or his grandfather's name. Now there's three names there that I'm going to call him one of 'em. (sentence in Osage) They call him (Osage name) That's the name they call him. But everybody calls him (Osage name). That's a baby name. That's the second boy's name. I mean third boy. (sentence in Osage) It will have to be one of them names. And when I get there why I'll give--maybe he might ready to call his old grandfather's name, or his next grandfather. Just like he's (Osage name). They call him (Osage name). And they call him (Osage name) (Osage name). But that (Osage name) is something like in early days. Way back there when they go in the warrior path why, (word in Osage); they earn names. (sentence in Osage) That's the way that was way back. (sentence in Osage) And then another way they call (Osage name) because he went and done that. He earned that. That's his name. That's another way they call him (Osage name) And they call him (Osage name) (finishes sentence in Osage) That's grown man's name (Osage name) (words in Osage). They call him (Osage name). But (words in Osage) That's his own name (Osage name) is. But (Osage name) is a kind of a, going on warrior path, I guess. Well when he was young man, you know. We don't know. Its way back there over hundred years ago when that happened. (word in Osage) I don't know, maybe he went, you know, and he earned that name. Just like this war--we're having this war now. And so on the other side (Osage name), that's Aunt Florence's side. There's a name there too. But I thought I would stay in the family. Give him one of them. But (Osage word) he's got a wrong name (Osage Name).

Mrs. Maker: That's what he's telling me.

Mrs. Green: That's the wrong name. I've been telling (Osage name) too. (Osage word), Martha cause she invite me. She told mama to come with me down there. That (Osage name) Edgar was going to name this one here. (Phrase in Osage) Well, she want me to come. Told mama to come with me. We went down there. We sat on that side of the room. (Osage name) was
