

(About that council, that you were talking about, that Indian Council, who is the Chairman.)

He is Terry Walker. He is the Chairman and he is the Chief, all of them.

(Of this Tullahassee Band?)

Oh! The Tullahassee Band, I'm, I'm the Chairman.

(Oh! You are the Chairman.)

Ah-huh!

(Oh!)

I guess they have a Talahassee Band over in Florida, maybe that is where they come from. I don't know. I was told that the old folks from way back there when they were coming over from Florida. They really suffered. One of the main guy next to the chief, he came down and we got acquainted. I can't think of his name.

(Unidentified voice: Osecola!)

No! That's not him. Buy anyway, he came down and he talk to us at the meeting. I believe he said he was a Bird Clan. (Laughter) I was told when I was young that when you see someone that is a lot older than you, you are suppose to shake hand with them. Even if they are from far away. He told me while I was talking to him, that we are suppose to get together and for us to come down to their Council Meeting. Before Terry become Chief. The sanitation, the Indian Housing they asked us if we would like bathroom, well, the Indian never did have any bathroom. They said they were gonna give it to them. And we got the papers ready. We were told that the government was gonna pay the Indian, the Seminole Indian down in Florida. They have the land, now they are waiting for the settlement. Which ever they are gonna pay. What do you call it, the lawyers, not it's the lawyers it --
