

(Yeah.)

My brother went out there and got into a fight with a guy and killed him. It was a Jap. Jap cut him all over the front. And my brother run around behind the car trying to get away, you know.

(Yeah)

Big crowd of people come over there and he couldn't get out. So, he just grabbed a jackhammer out of the car. And holler at this Jap and said if you don't stop I'll kill you. He just come a step right at him. He hit him right through the eyes with jackhammer and knocked him down. Got him running back in the store. My brother was just bleeding all over. So he ran. He went back in that store, and hit him two or three more times in the head. He died. He got ten years for that. Well, dad went out there. So (words not clear) his way. You know, trying to go out there and get him out of trouble.

(Yeah)

Tom Mix come out there. Right off he put up a $50,000, crossfine.

(Well.)

Said he'd been using them Japs out there.

(Yeah.)

My brother hadn't been out there very long and they wouldn't do nothing. So, he paid.

(Well, was Tom Mix raised there around Dewey?)

Well he was--his girl, Olive Stokes--

(Yeah.)

Lived out at the foot of the hill. It was kinda northwest from where it is.

(Yeah, I know where it is.)

And he went with this girl and married her. He worked there as a cowhand around one of the ranches. And he worked as a cop there in the town. And he stayed down there at our place part of the time.

(Yeah.)
