

(Just south of Alluwe.)

Yes. Up in that neighborhood.

(It must have been--)

Kinda between Chelsea and Nowata. Up in there somewhere.

(Just wondered if you knew any of its history. I want to get some history about Winganon. It was an early Delaware settlement.)

Yes.

(I understand.)

All up in there around there. Up around Alluwe. There was an Armstrong lived up there. They were--the Armstrong and the Journeycake and Adams.

DICK ADAMS INVITES MISS LANE TO WASHINGTON D.C.

Adamses. And Dick Adams, you know, was quite--he married a Carey. She was from Fort Gibson. She was a Cherokee girl. I went to school there one year. She was a friend to Julia. Not too far from Washington at Petersburg. And at Christmas time, this Mr. Adams, Mr. Dick Adams and his wife were living in Washington. And he was a Delaware. And he was up there as an attorney. And the Adams used to come down and visit. They would. And we would go up to Alluwe. Sometimes, I know my mother and grandmother would go up to Alluwe and stay all night to visit with the Adams.

(Surely.)

And so, when I was in Petersburg, Virginia, my sister Ida knew Mr. Dick Adams. He was older than I and told him that I was in school. They knew my mother. The school was at Petersburg. So they wrote me and asked me to come to St. Christopher. I stayed two weeks at Washington. And it was when Theodore Roosevelt was president. And New Year's day we went to /sentence not clear/. And this Mrs. Adams, they had a lovely big home, and they had the room for children. She had a nurse for the children and a maid for the house. They went /
