

(Is that the grandfather that married your grandmother who was a Caddo?)

No, that's on the Delaware side.

(But your grandfather was Delaware?)

Yes.

(And your grandmother was Caddo?)

No, she was a Delaware also.

(Oh she was, uhuh,)

See, that's on my mother's side. I'm Caddo on my father's side.

(How did your father's side meet your mother's side?)

Well, they on the affiliation after, see that was about 1890, sometime somewhere there. Shortly after he returned he returned from school because they all went to Chillaco.

(Was that here in Oklahoma?)

Yes, that was here in Oklahoma.

(Around this area?)

Yes.

(Uh, I'd like to ask you too, what were the names of some of the people related to you on your Caddo side? Was this your grandmother?)

Yes, that was my father's mother.

(That was your father's mother?)

Uhuh.

(What was her name?)

Sabedoka, and she was part Cherokee.

(What was your mother's name?)

My mother, she was a Delaware, she was Louise Harry. She was the daughter of Jack Harry.

(So are you half Delaware?)

Yes, I'm half Delaware, and half Caddo.
